QUICK HITS

IT'S NOT HOW YOU START: The Pac-12 wraps up its season this week with the 2020 Pac-12 Football Championship, presented by 76, taking place on Friday, Dec. 18 at 5p PT / 8p ET on FOX with the #13 USC Trojans hosting the Pac-12 North representative OREGON Ducks.

- On Saturday, Dec. 12, the Pac-12 announced WASHINGTON would travel to face USC in the Conference title game as winners of the Pac-12 North division, the Huskies third division title in the last five seasons.
- On Monday, Dec. 14, the Conference announced that WASHINGTON would be unable to participate in the game and would be replaced by OREGON as the team with the next best record in the division.
- The Trojans have captured their third Pac-12 South title in the last six seasons, the most among any team in the division.

PLAYING FOR THE TITLE: This Friday's matchup represents the 10th edition of Pac-12 football's title game, with the Pac-12 North winning all but one of nine contests. The Pac-12 South's lone win came courtesy of USC in 2017 (defeated Stanford 31-28).

- For the Trojans, this is their third appearance in the champ game and first since 2017.
- For the Ducks, this is their fourth appearance in the champ game which ties them with Stanford for the most in the event's history. OREGON has gone 3-0 in the #Pac12FCG, defeating UTAH last season 37-15.
- This is the second time a second place team is playing in the #Pac12FCG (UCLA replaced USC in 2011 due to NCAA sanctions).
- This year represents the first home-hosted #Pac12FCG since 2013, with the last six taking place at Levi's Stadium and the 2020 event originally scheduled to take place in Las Vegas at Allegiant Stadium.

- The Trojans outscored UCLA 20-3 in the 4th quarter, coming back from 18 points down for USC's largest comeback since 2005 vs. Arizona State (also 18 points).

A PERFECT RECORD: The Trojans have started their season 5-0 for the first time since 2006 (started 6-0 that season) and are looking to start 6-0 for the 20th time in school history.

- Trojans are producing 319.2 passing yards per game this season, tops in the Pac-12 and 13th best in FBS (set a school record with 335.8 YPG). This would be the fourth time in school history the Trojans have 300+ passing YPG (319.8 in 2005 and 306.8 in 2002).
- QB Kedon Slovis has back-to-back games with a career-high five TDs after matching the total vs. UCLA. Only other Trojans QB to do so is Sam Darnold.
- Slovis now has 13 passing TDs and zero interceptions in the 4th quarter in his career.

THE QUACK ATTACK: OREGON has produced 467.0 total yards per game this season, leading the Pac-12 (21st in FBS). The Ducks have produced over 400 yards in their first four games before being held under 400 at CALIFORNIA in their last contest (had their Dec. 12 game vs. WASHINGTON canceled due to COVID-19).

- QB Tyler Shough is one of three FBS QBs this season to be averaging over 250 passing yards and 50 rushing yards on the year (also, D'Eriq King of MIAMI and Dustin Crum of KENT STATE).
- Shough's 1,645 total yards thus far are the most by an OREGON QB through his first five career starts.
- Shough's 11 pass TDs are the second most ever by a Ducks QB through their first five career starts (Marcus Mariota and Bill Musgrave each also had 11 while Justin Herbert had 15).

IT'S NOT OVER YET: Rounding out the weekend's schedule, three more #Pac12FB matchups are set to take place for the season's final weekend.

- The Cougs visit UTAH in a matchup that will determine bowl eligibility for the winner (Pac-12 requires .500-or-better this year).
- STANFORD travels to UCLA as both programs look to finish their year with a winning record.
- ARIZONA STATE travels to OREGON STATE (Beavs were a higher seed in their division for week seven matchups) with the Sun Devils looking for bowl eligibility and the Beavs looking to end their season right after some signature wins on the year.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

For universities utilizing daily antigen testing, at least one weekly PCR test will also be administered for each student-athlete, in addition to all positive tests to be confirmed with a PCR test. All testing recommendations will be reviewed and updated as needed on an ongoing basis.

In addition to the consistent access to sufficient testing across all Pac-12 programs, community prevalence has shown continued improvement in the majority of communities across the Pac-12 footprint. To address concerns regarding potential health outcomes related to the virus, each Pac-12 sports medicine group will be implementing cardiac monitoring protocols for all student-athletes with a positive test. The Pac-12 institutions are also participating in a national COVID-19 cardiac registry which will allow for medical practitioners to monitor closely, and gain greater insight into, potential health outcomes in student-athletes.

Key elements of the testing protocols for football student-athletes include the following:

- Daily point-of-care testing on each day of full practice, higher-risk of transmission activity, travel, and games;
- Minimum once weekly PCR test (in addition to daily point-of-care testing). For football game weeks, the weekly PCR test will take place within 36 hours of game time for home team student-athletes and within 36 hours of travel departure for visiting team student-athletes;
- Any positive daily point-of-care antigen test must be followed by a PCR test within 24 hours;
- A third-party testing administrator will administer game day point-of-care antigen tests (and PCR tests as applicable) for each team and on-field officials;
- Game day air ambulance service will be available in case any individual tests positive while traveling for competition; and
- All testing protocols continue to be subject to state, local, and campus public health requirements.

A more detailed summary of the minimum testing requirements and further details on the Pac-12's football game week testing protocols can be found here.

GAME CANCELLATION POLICY

The Pac-12 has established minimum thresholds to play a football game of at least 53 scholarship players available to participate and the following minimum number of position scholarship players available to begin a game: seven (7) offensive linemen, one (1) quarterback and four (4) defensive linemen. Each institution shall provide a complete roster by position to the Conference office prior to the season. The impacted institution has the option to play the game with fewer than the 53 scholarship players or fewer than the minimum number of position players listed above if it elects to do so. Otherwise, upon approval by the Commissioner, the game would be rescheduled or declared a no contest.

In addition, a game should be rescheduled or declared no contest in the event of the following COVID-19 related impacts:

1. Inability to isolate new positive cases within a team or athletic department or to quarantine high-risk contacts.
2. Unavailability or inability to perform testing as provided by the Pac-12 medical guidelines.
3. Campus-wide or local community transmission rates that are considered unsafe by local public health officials.
4. Inability to perform adequate contact tracing consistent with governmental requirements.
5. Local public health officials of the home team state that there is an inability for the hospital infrastructure to accommodate a surge.

MORE QUICK BITES

NO EASY WINS: The Pac-12 leads the FBS with 59.3% (16/27) of conference games decided by eight-or-fewer points. The next closest is the Big 12 with 46.5% (20-43) of their games decided by eight points-or-less.

NO FLY ZONE: Reigning Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week, presented by Nextiva, Talanoa Hufanga has recorded an interception in four-straight games, which is the longest streak by a USC player since Sammy Knight in 1996.

EFFICIENCY: STANFORD's Davis Mills is one of three quarterbacks in FBS without an interception (min. 100 pass attempts).

- Mills has 203 pass attempts without throwing an interception, which is the third-longest active streak in FBS.

TERRITORIAL CUP RECORDS: ARIZONA STATE's 70-7 win in the Territorial Cup was the largest margin of victory over Arizona in the history of the contest.

- The Sun Devils scored two touchdowns in the first minute of the game, marking just the third time in FBS since 1996 this feat has been accomplished.
- Later in the game, Sun Devils' Jackson He scored a TD to become the first Chinese-born player in FBS history to score a TD.

RICE, RICE BABY: COLORADO's Brenden Rice was the first Buff with touchdowns on a punt return and reception in the same game since Walter Stanley in 1981.
